

Chariton (Harry) Kyriazis

Harry Kyriazis, Civ. Engineer, MBA, Ph.D., started his career in manufacturing, and then served as Secretary General of the Ministry of National Economy (1992-1993). From 1994 until 2011 he has been a tax and consulting unit Head in Arthur Andersen and subsequently PwC, with diverse experience in private and public sector projects. He sat at the Board of the Hellenic Federation of Enterprises (SEV) for 21 years, where he served as Executive Vice-Chairman (2011-2015) and as an Advisor to its Board on social dialogue & corporate governance (until Sep.2019). He currently acts as a freelance consultant and participates in Boards or serves as Audit Committee Chair of listed and unlisted companies (Lamda Development, Ellaktor, Attica Bank, PQH, Skama). He also serves, among other, in the Governing Body of the International Labour Organization (ILO).